AGES & STAGES QUESTIONNAIRES (ASQ)

A parent-completed system for monitoring your child's development

Like most parents, do you ever wonder if your child's development is progressing normally? Let us help. The Family Resource Network can provide you access to the Ages & Stages Questionnaire (ASQ) which is widely used by childcare programs, doctors offices, early intervention programs and other human services agencies.

What is ASQ? It is a simple, user-friendly, child development questionnaire that parents can use with their children ages 1 month to 5-1/2 years old. It helps determine if your child is progressing at a typical rate or may need some support. Sometimes this may be as simple as using play activities designed to reinforce learning and development.

The Family Resource Network can provide you with online access to the questionnaire, that's appropriate for our child's age, which can be completed by you in the comfort of your own home. Our staff of early childhood professionals will share your questionnaire results with you and if needed provide you with the fun activities and support you can use to help promote your child's growth.

All information is confidential. Parents must sign a Consent Form in order to participate.

There are 2 types of ASQ Screening Tools:

You have an opportunity to complete one or both of the following ASQ® developmental screening tools:

- ◆ Ages & Stages Questionnaires® - Third Edition (ASQ® DEV-3) addresses communication, gross motor, fine motor, problem solving, and personal-social skills.
- ◆ Ages & Stages Questionnaires®: Social-Emotional - Second Edition (ASQ®:SE-2): addresses self-regulation, compliance, communication, adaptive behaviors, autonomy, affect, and interaction with people.
